KUTI'S LEGACY GROWS AT WHEATON'S BROADWAY BOUND DANCE COMPANY

Lifetime Achievement Award Spotlights Career of Life Changing Leadership
Other Suburbs Eyed for Charitable Foundation Growth

Addison, IL May 8, 2012 -- Lynn Kuti's gracious acceptance of a Village of Addison Lifetime Achievement award for 40 years of dedication to the local dance community is just the latest chapter in her charitable journey that has afforded hundreds of young people the opportunity to learn to dance, regardless of their ability to pay.

The Founder and Owner of the non-profit Wheaton Based Broadway Dance Company has recently teamed with Ortale and Associates Limited, a Chicago based consulting firm, to assist in the development of operations, develop a board of trustees, and explore opportunities to expand their successful model to other communities.

Kuti's knowledge of dance and passion for teaching shines through her staff and students, and her contributions to the community are abundant. The Wheaton Starz Dance Troupe, the Broadway Bound children's performance group, brightens the lives of residents of nursing homes and senior centers, while proceeds from their annual Dancin' for Food show benefit the People's Resource Center, a local food pantry involved in the recruiting of scholarship recipients.

"From the wonderful support we have received from the Wheaton Mayor, City Council, and Chamber of Commerce, to the expertise of Ortale and Associates, we feel well aligned for growth and success," said Kuti. " While our model of providing parent and community subsidized scholarships is prevalent in the city, it is unique to our area. I am hopeful we can positively impact more kids and expand our positive influence to students throughout the suburbs."

Ortale and Associates President and CEO Donald Ortale, an award winning 20 year non-profit industry veteran is equally enthused. "The mention of Lynn Kuti's name throughout the western suburbs is certain to elicit praise, gratitude, and respect for the huge impact she has had on those who gain the enjoyment and self assurance that comes with learning the principles of dance," said Ortale. " We are thrilled at the opportunity to support her organization as she continues to positively influence the lives of young people and their families."
